Selectmen's Meeting

March 6, 1984 - by Virginia Arral

"QUESTIONS STILL UNANSWERED" say Selectmen and Town Counsel.

Although "answers" were received from Energy Answers Corp. in reply to the Board of Selectmen's questions, neither they nor the Board of Health nor Town Counsel Donald J. Fleming were satisfied with what the company representatives said.

A joint meeting last Tuesday revealed more questions than answers as town counsel advised the selectmen not to sign the agreement with the company that plans to build a waste-to-energy plant in Rochester until a clarification is forthcoming as to who are the partners, the corporation's financial statement and a more definitive explanation of toxic waste liability.

In reading off the questions and answers Town Counsel Fleming noted the answers were either incomplete, vague or unanswered. He added that the corporation was unwilling to give out its financial statement.

Fleming said, "I find it hard from what I've seen to see a $6 million investment the company claims it has made in this area. It seems we should be able to get a financial statement, especially any financial claims against the company."

Fleming continued, "I don't think they have an attorney. I offered to consult with their attorney on toxic waste liability -- again no straight answer. A short and simple answer is if there is a problem, we will be holding the bucket."

Town Counsel added, "Several large contractors will be dumping material and I have some real concern with that." Fleming commented that "we are dealing with salesmen. They are promoting a product that they won't be financing nor supervising. We want to know who will be responsible."

Selectman James F. Huntoon said that many people may wonder why we (the board) are sticklers when other towns, like Middleboro, have signed the agreement. "Many times people spend hours discussing the purchase of a bicycle rack and five minutes on a $6 million contract", Huntoon added.

Huntoon continued, "We have to be responsible in our decision. We have to act as an independent board, and we cannot rely on what Plymouth and Middleboro are doing. We are putting them (SEMASS) in business and I have no problem with this as long as they are also responsible."

The board members agreed they are being competently advised by counsel and shouldn't ask any less from them. Again Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta asked Fleming, "do you advise us to sign?" and Fleming shook his head and said, "no". Board of Health members Sonja Peterson and Dan C. Lee, Jr. agreed with the decision. All agreed to contact SEMASS again to have their attorney consult with our town counsel.

In other business:

SELECTMAN DeCOSTA READ A LETTER from the Plymouth County District Attorney's office from Assistant District Attorney Ralph K. Mulford extending his appreciation to Lt. James A. Santos on his handling of a recent difficult case. A copy of the letter will be sent to Police Chief James Moran and a copy will be placed in Santos' personal file.

The letter closed with:

"It's always rewarding to learn that policemen of the caliber of Lt. Santos are ready, willing and able to assist and support our prosecutorial efforts and it's especially noteworthy to find police pretrial case investigation characterized by the sensitivity and compassion that I found here. I would appreciate it greatly and would consider it a personal favor if you saw fit to give Lieutenant Santos some public recognition for his extraordinary efforts and professionalism. He is truly a credit to your Police Department and to the Town of Mattapoisett."

Additionally, Selectmen:

AGREED to purchase the 12 telephone units now in use at the Town Hall at a cost of $4,470. The changeover, which comes with a 30-day warrantee, will become effective July 1st.

The board also agreed to purchase a 12-month service contract at a cost of $361.20. This purchase will result in a $4,449 yearly saving after the initial payment. At the present time, the town pays $4,810 annual rental fee for the 12 units.

The report noted nothing was wrong with the installation and that if there are any further problems the state fire marshal should check the system.

ANNUAL GUEST NIGHT

March 15th is the date for the Mattapoisett Woman's Club's annual Guest Night. This is an evening meeting starting at 7:30 p.m. and all members are urged to invite husbands, neighbors or other guests along.

We are particularly pleased to be having as our guest performer that evening Ms. Cynthia Gordon O'Neill. Ms. O'Neill is a harpist, who will be performing comedy-oriented songs, poking fun at subjects like politics, dieting and rock 'n' roll. She has played in Boston at the Copley Plaza, Parker House, Ritz Carlton, Colonade and the Harvard Club, and at the Daniel Webster Inn. For four years she was first harpist with the local Symphony and teaches harp at the Cape Cod Conservatory. The Mattapoisett Woman's Club is looking forward to welcoming this talented performer and to seeing many of our friends on this special evening.

LITERATURE GROUP

The Literature Group of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club will meet Wednesday, March 21st, at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Dorothy Fox. The program will be mini-book reviews, and all members who wish are asked to participate.

Co-hostesses will be Norma Holt and Dorothy Verville. If you need transportation call Joan Jason at 758-2446.

Outstanding Teachers

Letters have been received from Dean Donald N. Levine of the University of Chicago nominating two staff members of Old Rochester Regional High School for the College's outstanding teacher award. The teachers, Janice Moody, instructor in Latin, and Llewellyn Roberts, instructor in English, were accorded this recognition upon the basis of student reports over the years. Dean Levine reports that conversations with their students over the years have found that during the high school careers of their students there was at least one outstanding teacher who really made a difference - someone who introduced their students to new vistas and new realms of discovery, made serious intellectual demands on them for the first time or knew how to challenge a student's private interests into avenues for significant personal growth. In admiration and appreciation for these contributions, the University of Chicago has recognized each of these teachers.

Rochester Youth Hockey

Another hockey season has come to an end, and playoffs are underway this week. Rochester Youth Hockey had a very successful season with all teams doing very well, and we, as parents, are very proud of all our skaters.

In a non-league game, our clinic skaters and first year Mites defeated New Bedford by a score of 3-2. Kirk Haymaker scored all 3 goals, with assists going to Brian Berriault with 2, and Jason Allain and Kevin Allain with 1 assist each. Jeffrey Allain was awesome in the net for Rochester.

The Mite team has finished their season, ending up in third place, and will have their first playoff game on Wednesday, March 14th, against Kennedy at Kennedy.

The Squirt team ended their season in third place also, and they will play Canal on March 12th at Gallo.

The Peewee team ended their season in a tie for fourth place, and their playoff situation has not been resolved yet.

In a game played on March 8th, the Bantam B's, sponsored by Marble Hardware, defeated Provincetown by a score of 4-1 to clinch second place in their division. Tim Bronk played another outstanding game in the net and ended the season with a 1.26 goals against, which may be the lowest in the Cape League. Goals were scored by Scott Guinen with 3, and Chris Danse with an unassisted goal. Assists were registered by Sean Brice with 2, and Art Parks with 2. The B's will play Canal in the first game of the playoffs on Saturday, March 18th, at Hetland.

The Bantam C's, sponsored by American Flexible, defeated Canal by a score of 5-2, and they ended their season in first place, with 16 wins and only 2 losses. "Owl Walk"

MATTAPOISETT SCOUTS AT LLOYD CENTER

In the early morning darkness a group of people stood quietly listening for the screech owl's call. And in a moment they heard it, the trembling wail of this local species of owl. It was 4:00 a.m. and the scouts from Scout Pack 53 in Mattapoisett were on an "Owl Walk" at the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies in South Dartmouth. During a brief indoor session, the scouts learned about the adaptations that owls have made to their nocturnal existence. Lloyd Center staff person Beth Pollin played a tape recording of several different owl calls to familiarize the group with the owl calls they might hear outdoors. The group then visited several different areas in South Dartmouth in the early morning hours, attracting owls by playing the cassette recording of calls. Since owls establish nesting territories and begin nesting in February and March, this is a good time of year to search for them. By playing a recording of their calls, owls in the area may respond if they feel their territory is being invaded by an intruder. We increased our chances of seeing or hearing the four species of owls which inhabit this area by visiting different locations in South Dartmouth. During the course of the Owl Walk we heard a Screech Owl and a Great Horned Owl and caught a fleeting glimpse of a Short-eared owl. The Barred Owl, the fourth species on our "owl wish list" remained unseen and unheard during this particular walk.

Owls have been persecuted for years under the mistaken belief that they deplete populations of game animals. The scouts gained a new appreciation for these unique birds when they learned that owls are very important in pest control because mice, rats, and other rodents make up a large percentage of their diet. Besides completing requirements for a scout badge, the excitement of being in the woods at night and "calling in" a wild bird made the "Owl Walk" a unique experience.

The Lloyd Center staff works in conjunction with Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops who are working towards badges pertaining to environmental studies. In spite of its prominent position in our world, the sky is largely overlooked. Most people cannot describe the clouds in the sky when asked to cover their eyes and do so, much less name the different types and understand their formation. This walk will address these topics of cloud types, names and formation. The group will also learn what clouds mean regarding the weather, local weather patterns as affected by the coast and how basic weather observations may be made and recorded.

Weekly walks are open to the public, and although they are free of charge, registration is necessary as group size is limited. Please call the Center at 990-0505 to register.

Mummenschanz is a much celebrated Swiss mime and mask theatre group which is preparing for a Broadway show. The troup uses fantastic wrappings and masks and becomes a variety of animals, monsters, and other creatures which are very entertaining to young and old.

Lisa Schwarzbaum in the Boston Globe describes their program: "Often they cover parts of their body. Sometimes the masks are made of cubes, or balloons, or toilet paper tubes...Mummenschanz expands the traditional aspects of mime with its concentration on facial expression and the illusion of specific objects. Instead, the company does not bother to suggest any 'realism' and prefers to let fantasy figures combine with the perceptions of the audience to comment on the human condition."

Tickets are $11. for adults, $8. for students, children, and senior citizens. A limited number of tickets are available through the Lloyd Center to support the Summer Program. For additional information contact the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies at 990-0505.

Letter to The Editor

The news media just told us that the Supreme Court ruled that Christmas creche scenes may be displayed on government property again which was indeed good news for the large majority of Americans - and now let us hope that the AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION (and its partners in secular-humanism) will discontinue their efforts to support anything and everything (or so it seems) which would destroy God and Country.

Today THE PRAYER AMENDMENT will be heard in the Senate and has a good chance to win. President Reagan wants it passed - vocal, undenominational prayer for the children of public schools.

We know that Senator Kennedy and Senator Tsongas have never supported it. Neither did (or do) Hart or Mondale formerly in the Senate hearings of the past.

We also know that our own Rep. Studds in this district in the House who sits there though he was censured for having

EXHIBIT MASKS FROM MONTGOMERY

From April 3 through May 27 an exhibition documenting a unique grassroots art project involving the citizens of a small town in northern Vermont and a local artist will be on view at the Children's Museum of Dartmouth. Entitled Masks from Montgomery, the exhibition features a selection of 188 plaster face masks cast from and decorated by residents of Montgomery, Vermont, and provides a fascinating self-portrait of a community that learned how to express its unique character through the image-making process.

The "Mask Montgomery" project was the idea of Maggie Sherman, an artist who moved to the town from her native Tennessee in 1973. She conceived the idea as an opportunity "to get involved with the community in an artistic way", and to demonstrate that "people who think they have no artistic ability can discover they do". With financial help from the community, Sherman made plaster face masks of more than 400 of the 677 Montgomery residents, ranging in age from 3 to 85. Subjects decorated their own masks, displaying an amazing variety of styles and materials. The children's masks are the most colorful, with the youngest using elaborate surface decoration. The masks of the adults tend to be more realistic; some people added photographs, magazine cut-outs, glasses, or medallions to personalize their masks.

The first exhibition of the masks was held in the Montgomery Grange Hall, where most of the masking had taken place. More than 300 residents attended, as well as a crew from the NBC-TV affiliate in Boston. The project has since been featured in The New Yorker and Smithsonian magazines.

England state arts agencies, in cooperation with the town of Montgomery and with the assistance of grants from New England Telephone and the Jessie B. Cox Charitable Trust. The masks chosen for the exhibition have been grouped into categories such as "local celebrities", "occupations", "fantasies", "senior women", and "farmers".

After the show tours through New England and to a number of sites outside the region, the masks will be returned to Montgomery, to be kept as a record of the people who lived there in 1981 and of the unique spirit of the town which grew into the masking project.

In the words of Maggie Sherman, "the MASKS FROM MONTGOMERY" hopes to be as inspiring to other communities to create a community project as each mask was to a neighbor in Montgomery".

The Children's Museum is located at 276 Gulf Road in South Dartmouth. Museum hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and 1 to 5 p.m. on Sundays. For further information call the Museum, 993-3361.

YOUNG TOM EDISON & THE MAGIC WHY

YOUNG TOM EDISON & THE MAGIC WHY, a fun-filled musical based on the famous inventor's boyhood days in Port Huron, Michigan, will play the Zeiterion Theatre on Friday, March 23rd, at 10:00 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. The show has delighted hundreds of thousands of young people from Massachusetts to Illinois to Georgia and has been performed at Lincoln Center's Philharmonic Hall.

Young Tom Edison & The Magic Why is produced by PART Foundation of New York City and has been endorsed and recommended by the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation.

In the play we see Tom's independent, impetuous spirit and love of experimentation embroil him in troubles which threaten to bring the wrath of the townspeople down on his head and result in his being expelled from school. But Tom does not become disheartened. He perseveres in his experimentation and, assisted by the magical "WHY", saves a neighboring community in crisis with his ingenuity.

Many of the events of the play are factual and the characters are based on real people. Tom really did attend Reverend Engel's school and he did try to make his friend, Michael Oates, fly. Edison did invent the word "hello" during his work to improve Bell's telephone and he did signal Sarnia, Canada by steam whistle. The burned baggage car in which Tom had his laboratory has been preserved as a monument and may still be

GUTHRIE THEATER'S IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST

On Sunday, March 25th, at 7:30 p.m. the Zeiterion Theatre will present the Guthrie Theater's production of The Importance of Being Earnest. New Bedford is one of 23 cities hosting the first Guthrie national tour since 1968. The Guthrie Theater was founded in Minneapolis by Sir Tyrone Guthrie in 1963. Since that time it has enjoyed a reputation as the leading classical repertory theater in the United States. The Importance of Being Earnest has played on the Guthrie mainstage for six weeks before embarking on the 8-week tour. The production will be directed by Garland Wright.

Written in 1895, The Importance of Being Earnest tells the story of the amorous misadventures of two carefree young gentlemen: Jack Worthing, who has invented a fictitious brother "Ernest"; and his bosom friend, Algernon (Algy) Moncrieff. Jack is madly in love with Algernon's cousin, Gwendolyn, who is fiercely guarded by the formidable Lady Bracknell. Algernon is in love too, with Jack's ward, Cecily. As the two couples make their way toward inevitable unions, the persona of the fictitious Ernest bounces through the action like a rubber ball. All obstacles are happily overcome in the final scene through a succession of marvelous revelations.

Wilde gives his characters his own remarkable powers of speech, and subtly but effectively reveals the shallowness of his rigid Victorian society. This is where the play's action and its great appeal lie -- in a stylistic brilliance reminiscent of the best of Restoration comedy of manners. The Importance of Being Earnest is all style, with a topsy-turvy logic that engages us by the sheer force of its verbal wit. It is no wonder that this play has been described as "brilliant" and "flawless", and deservedly claims its place as one of the outstanding comedies of the English stage.

The Guthrie Theater's production of The Importance of Being Earnest is sponsored by Citicorp/Citibank, and was booked in cooperation with the New England Presentors.

Special study guides are available to teachers and students from the Guthrie Theater. Tickets are $14.50 and $12.50; students/seniors, $10.50. For further information call the Zeiterion Theatre Box Office at 994-2900.

Firewood and Chainsaws

Firewood Handling and Chainsaw Maintenance are the topics of a free evening program on March 15th at 7:30 p.m. at the Dartmouth Middle School, Hawthorn Street, North Dartmouth. This program continues the series sponsored by the Dartmouth Natural Resources Trust. The public is cordially invited to attend. The two speakers for the evening are Michael Sekora from the Plymouth County Extension Service and Ken Watjen of Georgie's Power Equipment.

In the first session held in January, woodlot management was described as a way of producing a substantial yield of fuel wood from a limited acreage of forest. Mr. Sekora will explain the proper handling of firewood once it has been cut. His talk includes the how and where to cure wood and the best means by which to use wood to gain maximum efficiency from woodstoves and fireplaces. His discussion will include the selection of wood for cutting and burning.

Mr. Watjen will describe the proper and safe techniques for the use of a chainsaw to cut firewood. A film will be shown demonstrating the how and why of wood cutting with a chainsaw. His presentation will also include the basics of maintaining a chainsaw, an important aspect of chainsaw safety.

The program will be followed by a question and answer session. Some handouts will be available for those people who attend, and refreshments will be served.

For additional information contact the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies, Tuesday through Sunday, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at 990-0505.

"MASS APPEAL"

On the stage, as in films, men of the cloth are sometimes made out of the whole cloth. That is not the case with "MASS APPEAL" where, as playgoers, we come to know and cherish two men as creatures of flesh and blood, and perceive in them aspects of our common strengths and weaknesses. This comedy-drama puts a complacent middle-aging priest, Father Tim Farley, in sometimes stormy but underlyingly tender conflict with an ardent, rebellious and idealistic seminarian, Mark Dolson.

In its simplest terms this is the perennial skirmish between youth and age, between those who have seen too little and those who have seen too much, between those who want to change the world radically and those who have made their abject peace with principalities and powers. Linking the two men ever closer as mentor and student, surrogate father and son, playwright Bill C. Davis fashions a glowing parable on the indivisibility of love.

Davis' characters are full of contradictions and surprises; they are also abundantly capable of change. Though "Mass Appeal" starts out as a debate between two men on the opposite sides of a generational-theological gap, it quickly deepens into a wide, moving and very funny comedy about

Fund for Liver Transplant Patient

A fund for Rita and Omer Raymond the parents of Ann Marie Joseph, the New Bedford woman who is waiting for a liver transplant at Deaconess Hospital in Boston, has been set up by a local physician.

Mark A. Mahoney, M.D., the Raymond's family physician, set up the fund this past week to help defray the enormous personal expense the family has been through in the past few months since Ann Marie became seriously ill. Contributions from employees of Parkwood Hospital, where Mrs. Raymond works, have formed the foundation of the fund.

Upon announcing the fund, Dr. Mahoney made the following statement: "Since she first became ill in September while living in Florida, Ann Marie and her parents, Rita and Omer Raymond, have inspired all who have known them with their personal courage and faith, surmounting odds and bureaucratic insensitivity and ineptitude that would have defeated any other family. Throughout it all, Rita and Omer have stood steadfastly beside her, juggling their full-time jobs, making personal sacrifices without complaining, traveling thousands of miles to a strange city to be sure Ann Marie was not alone, and fighting for her care and her life. It is easy to see where Ann Marie learned about courage.
